

Benefit Recovery Fund (BRF)

WHAT TO KNOW

About

The Benefit Recovery Fund is a program in Colorado for undocumented workers who receive a W-2 and have taxes withheld from their paychecks, but lack work authorization. The Fund provides unemployment insurance benefits when you lose your job through no fault of your own.

AidKit is the administrator of the fund to ensure the privacy and confidentiality of applicants to the fund. The government will not be involved in processing your application or deciding who gets benefits. Your former employer will not know you have applied to the Benefit Recovery Fund. No information will be shared with any government immigration agencies.

Receiving Funds

If approved, applicants can receive up to $781 per week for 13 weeks, depending on base pay, through direct deposit or a debit card.

Who is Eligible?

- Must be 16 or older, W-2 or pay stub worker without work authorization
- Recently lost job through no fault of their own
- Not currently receiving or eligible for traditional Unemployment Insurance Benefits
- Have valid government-issued proof of identity and Colorado home address

Note: Workers paid in cash, as contractors, or by personal checks do not qualify

Ready to apply? Questions?

Text or call 720-902-7643
Email support@brf.aidkit.org

www.brf.aidkit.org/apply

BILINGUAL APPLICATION

Apply online at www.brf.aidkit.org/apply

Start Application

Gather Documents: Identity proof, residency, employer separation form (22-234) and other essentials.

Submit Application

Complete the application form and upload documents. Typically takes 30 minutes or more.

Verification Checks

AidKit will confirm your identity. It's important to make sure this funding is going to real people who need it.

Application Review

AidKit will review all submitted documents and reach out if additional documentation is needed.

Notification of Eligibility Status

A response will be sent to the applicant within 2 weeks unless additional information is needed.

Bilingual | Call, Text, or Email
www.brffaq.com | 720-902-7643
support@brf.aidkit.org

